Getting Your Children to Reach for the Stars

The Jupiter Return

The "Big Push" at 12

At around the age of 12, children go through a period of rapid brain development. If parents and teachers understand the sign of Jupiter their children or class has they can take advantage of the wisdom this planet has to offer.

It's more than looking at Sun signs. . .

Everybody talks about their Sun sign in astrology but when it comes to learning, Jupiter is the planet that can help you.

Jupiter takes about 12 years to complete its orbit around the sun, hitting critical points about every four years. The "Jupiter Return" (when a child's Jupiter reaches the point where it was at birth) signals the start of many changes physically, emotionally, socially and neurologically. It's your chance to open the doors and windows of the world for your child.

Jupiter hits critical stages at the ages of 3, 6, 9 and 12 (and every three years afterwards) essentially forming the foundation of their lives. What they learn and how they process the information they have acquired can determine future interests and various degrees of success if parents and teachers understand how the child's Jupiter works.

Jupiter's Elements

Fire	Energetic, competitive, demanding, fast
Earth	Practical, enjoys building on ideas or collecting materials
Air	Loves to communicate, easily distracted
Water	Needs reassurances, forms emotional attachments easily
Fine-tuning	Find out more about Jupiter at: alextrenoweth.co.uk

The "Jupiter Return" (when a child's Jupiter reaches the point where it was at birth) signals the start of many changes physically, emotionally, socially and neurologically.

The Critical Stages of Jupiter

The sun determines our seasons here on earth. Four seasons in one year. With Jupiter, the seasons are considerably longer. Jupiter seasons last about 3 years.

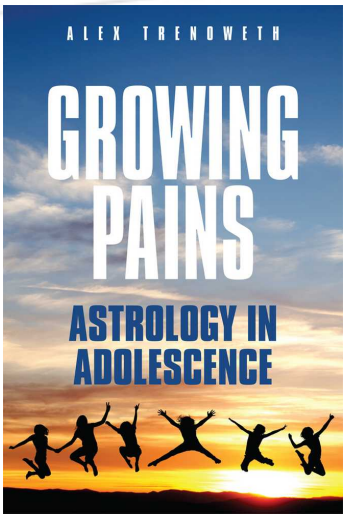
Springtime (birth to about 3 years of age): Developmental milestones include confident walking, being able to be understood by someone other than primary caretakers and being potty trained.

Summertime (3 to about 6 years of age): Developmental milestones include learning how to read and write as well as physical tasks such as riding a bike, skipping and hopping

Autumn (6 to about 9 years of age): Developmental milestones include being able to distinguish between fantasy and the real world.

Winter (9 to about 12 years of age): Developmental milestones include being able to understand more complex ideas, being able to multi-task more effectively and preparing for "The Big School".

In the West, we tend to send our children to a Middle or Secondary school where they leave the comfort of their classroom "family" and meet more teachers and students from different backgrounds. It's a great time to take a journey to a foreign country, learn a new language or explore a different religion.

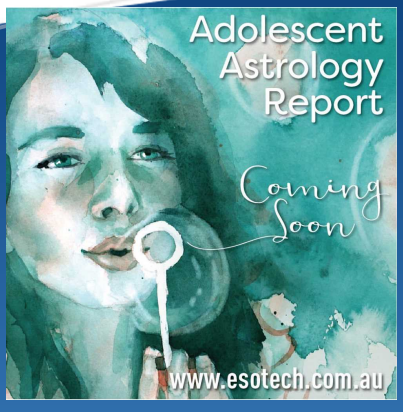


The book parents and teachers need to get!

"Growing Pains: Astrology in Adolescence" was written for parents and teachers by a passionate astrologer and schoolteacher. Frustrated by seeing the unmet learning needs of her pupils, Alex Trenoweth came up with a straightforward and easy to understand guide.

Get your signed copy here!

http://bit.ly/3epjKLk



The report is 16-18 pages, beautifully illustrated with your child's astrology chart plus a detailed, computer generated astrology report written by a highly experienced astrologer and schoolteacher.

Understanding Your Teenager

People often say "I wish my child had an owner's manual so I can understand them better!" Well actually such a thing exists! It's called an "Adolescent Astrology Report". It's filled with information to help you understand your child better. You'll learn more about the critical stages of development and how you can support your child.

The report was written by one of the world's foremost experts in astrology and children based on her groundbreaking (and award-winning) research.

Get your report here: http://bit.ly/3rvbtco

The Astrological Secret for Learning

Have you noticed we teach children by academic year? Well that means each year group will have a dominant Jupiter sign. So instead of teachers wasting half the school year trying to work out how to get their students to learn using trial and error, they can just look to Jupiter for help.
Here's a rough guide for finding your child's Jupiter sign.

Jupiter in Aquarius

(born between 19 December 2021 and 15 May 2021)

Although this sign is symbolised by a human, often these learners have the inkling that they are not really human at all. They love high-tech gadgets and use them in ways you never thought possible. As a class, they will be very inventive but will not like to do what everyone else is doing. Give them space to explore alternative answers to traditional questions.

Jupiter in Capricorn

(born between 2 December 2019 and 18 December 2020)

These learners enjoy holding posts of responsibility but in a classroom of 30 pupils, not everyone can be an elder statesman. They usually have a frighteningly realistic view of the world and if they are aware of the competition around them, will rise to the challenge. They need to know where they stand amongst their peers

Jupiter in Sagittarius

(born between 8 November 2018-1 December 2019)

These pupils tend to think they know everything so the things they come out with can be very insensitive. They like 'big ideas' but tend to need guidance in looking at the details. Linking lessons to religious beliefs not only gives them a chance to explore issues such as compassion and dignity but gives them an opportunity to see life from another person's perspective.

Jupiter in Scorpio

(born between 10 October 2017 and 7 November 2018)

These learners have an uncanny sense of what makes others uncomfortable and they will use this to avoid Physics lessons if you let them think they got under your skin. Occasionally let these pupils indulge in their passion for graphic literature but also put their excellent research skills to good use.

Jupiter in Libra

(born between 9 September 2016 and 9 October 2017)

These learners like to work with others but in paired learning; it needs to be strategic. Putting them with someone they really like or someone they really hate and you basically have the same problem—no work gets done.

Continued from page 1

Jupiter in Virgo

(born between 11 August 2015 and 8 September 2016)

These learners like precision and order. It doesn't bother them to do the same thing over and over but it will bother them to submit less than perfect work. They can be brutal with criticism so always ensure clear ground rules are followed in peer- or self-assessments.

Jupiter in Leo

(born between 16 July 2014 and 10 August 2015)

These learners love drama so incorporate opportunities to show off their acting skills. Display or record their work (but warn them first) so they can see themselves - and each other - in the best possible light. Encourage them to show their generous and altruistic side or you will never get them off the stage.

Jupiter in Cancer

(born between 26 June 2013 and 15 July 2014)

These learners usually have a great love of history and a tendency to rely on their memories rather than rational information. They might like to be involved in charities or in activities that make them feel they are doing something to make the world a better place. Linking lessons to creating a home or taking care of a family may motivate them to do more cerebral work such as algebra.

Jupiter in Gemini

(born between 11 June 2012 and 15 June 2013

These learners polarise into super-speedy or super-reluctant—and very often this tendency has its roots in their experiences of learning to read. These learners have seen knowledge worshipped like God and they will see God as a harsh judge on those who can't read, so reluctant learners will take great pains to conceal their lack of ability.

Astrology Classes Starting in April

Astrology classes for all levels are available through Rohini Academy of Astrology.

Beginners:

Nine classes will deepen your understanding of the concepts first learned in Absolute Beginners. You'll be expected to present simple interpretations to fellow students, complete weekly activities and pass an oral exam to pass the first level.

"Astrology for Parents"

A one-hour webinar to help you use astrology to support your child's learning.

"Astrology for Teachers"

A one-hour webinar to help you use astrology in your classroom.

"Learning how to Work Ethically with Children's Charts"

A four-hour workshop for professional astrologers

Full syllabus on request

(continued)

Jupiter in Taurus

(born between 4 June 2011 and 10 June 2011)

These learners like to use their senses but they also need time to digest what they have learned so be careful not to pile on the data all at once. Using project folders, so they can add or take away pages, could be just one way of letting them indulge in their love of collecting things.

Jupiter in Aries

(born between 6 June 2010 and 3 June 2011)*

These learners like a good race. Keep lessons at a good pace and create a sense of competition in the classroom. Teach these children to self-assess and keep track of their progress. Encourage them to compare their results to others so they can see where they stand. Very often these children will hone in on one skill in which they become unbeatable.

Jupiter in Pisces

(born between 18 January 2010 and 5 June 2010)*

These learners are sensitive to the ambiance of the classroom so can shut down if they feel threatened. Consequently they might miss something important. They will need lots of reminders, helpful displays and plenty of opportunity to use their ample imaginations.

* You've heard of Mercury retrograde? Well Jupiter also goes into retrograde motion! If your child was born between 6 June 2010 and 22 January 2011, you'll have to double check which sign Jupiter was in with an astrologer).

Family Astrology Consultations

Families are important. And sometimes we need to dig a little deeper in order to understand what is going on. Why the drama and conflict?

Astrology is an enormously powerful tool to help parents understand themselves, their partners and their children.

Alex Trenoweth is a fully qualified professional astrologer and schoolteacher with police clearance and training in Safeguarding and Child Protection.

Discuss your needs with her today!

Contact her at: alex.trenoweth@gmail.com

About Alex Trenoweth

Alex Trenoweth is a professional schoolteacher as well as an astrologer specialising in child development, particularly the important life stage of adolescence. She has spoken at astrology conferences around the world, contributed to important astrological publications and has won several major awards for her unique research based on her book "Growing Pains: The Astrology of Adolescence" by The Wessex Astrologer. Alex has also recently authored "The Adolescent Astrology Report" which was created to help parents and teachers understand the children they care for. Watch out for her new book "Mirror Mirror: Famous People and the Actors who have Portrayed Them" coming out soon with a foreword by Julia Parker. Alex is now President of CAPISAR and has recently started her own astrology school, Rohini Academy of Astrology. Her website is www.alextrenoweth.co.uk

Alex Trenoweth, in academic robes, presenting awards to astrology students in India. Alex is a professor of astrology for the Krishnamurti Institute of Astrology in Kolkata as well as an organizer of the Institute of Vedic Culture's astrology conference.

